JSPC Open

21/21 April

This is held half way up a hill on the outskirts of Galashiels in the borders. It is a friendly club that keeps you fed and watered with Scotch pies and mugs of tea. It was a horrendous 7:30hour drive for Jim and Dave through the Good Friday motorway jams but well worth it once they arrived.

It is only a small range but they ran 54 competitors through three events with a variety of guns for two days non stop. They do not have classes so it was stiff competition.

Timed & Precision 1 SB

296 placed Jim 15th and Dave was in the mid twenties.

Timed & Precision 1 CF

Same story...

Timed & Precision 1 LBR

Jim sprayed them about at 25m and got his lowest score for ages, 288, placed him 5th.

Multi-Target SB

Dave shot badly but was helped by the shooter next to him putting shots on the wrong target. So resultantly Dave claimed the best shots and cleaned the RH target – there's a first. Dave111, Jim 109.

Multi-Target CF

Jim 5th with 117, Dave 6th with many less.

Multi-Target LBR

Jim's should have been better with a 2 and a 3 at 25m, but he recovered to win with 106.

Phoenix A SB

It is 12 months since Jim shot this here last year so unsurprisingly only 12th place.

Phoenix A CF

Jim watches on as Dave makes a mess of it

But Jim had been practicing this so very happy with a PB of 195 for 4th. Dave was 19th.

Phoenix A LBR

Jim was not happy with his score but accepted a Silver!

Team Events

England was crushed by the Scots – again. They really have a strong team and had home advantage – well that's our excuse.

AGGREGATE SCORES

LBR Aggt

Even with his disaster in TP1 Jim tied for first place and won on X count.

Jim was 4th in the TP1 and MT trophy and 6th in the overall GR Trophy being highest places Englander!

Summary

It was hard to believe the weather would be so hot, 24°C. but it was great for sitting around talking rubbish. Phil, please note that Jim has adopted one of your fashion trends – silly socks, but he won't be tucking his trousers in them!

Sunday was a coat cooler but stayed fine. As Dave had only entered a few cops (5) he was given the job as entertainments manager was it won him a Silver award. A homemade cake wrapped in foil.

The journey home was not much better than the one up, but we'll be going again.
